

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Through a keen commitment to teaching and state-of-the-art research in this fast-changing world, the modern university must prepare students to be confident, knowledgeable and communicative professionals. The College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHSS) at the United Arab Emirates University (UAEU) achieves these objectives by offering a range of exciting and diverse educational opportunities that enable graduates to contribute to their communities and societies.

The disciplines that comprise the humanities and the social sciences make essential contributions to a striking range of contemporary global problems; in addition, most of the pressing social, cultural, and economic questions of our time require cross-disciplinary understanding and expertise to find a solution. The humanities cultivate superior facilities in language, literature and critical thinking, as well as a knowledge of history, architecture, and other important human achievements in our students. The social sciences also equip students with skillful analytical methodologies important for contributing to a healthy society. All of this is done by using a combination of online learning and face to face instruction that helps our students get exposure to the potential contexts in which they will find themselves when they go into the job market.

Our aim at CHSS is to prepare our graduates to fulfill key roles as leaders and contributors in their communities. To achieve this we have designed a curriculum that will strengthen and refine the crucial skills students require to succeed: skills in communication, critical thinking and creative endeavor. Furthermore, many of our programs offer opportunities for students to participate in internships, which give them hands-on learning experiences that will help them transition into their chosen career. We are fully aware that in today's job market, there is a crucial need for graduates to possess a solid grounding in 21st century skills, and CHSS has integrated these skills into every aspect of the learning process.

We have outstanding faculty from around the world who are known and respected for their academic excellence and industry-based knowledge. Our faculty are also student-centered and enjoy their roles as mentors, providing both informed instruction and personal guidance for their students. Similarly, our students are keen and passionate about their studies, and participate in a wide variety of student clubs and activities outside the classroom.

Our college provides a world-class liberal arts education, and we are extremely proud to offer you the chance to be part of it. Please visit our website to explore further opportunities for study.
